

Such a Lonely Night

I never asked the reason why
I never asked for much at all
I know I laugh where most would cry
And many times I've been the fool

But it's such a lonely night
And I was wondering if I call your phone tonight
Are you lying there on your own?

'cause it's such a lonely night
And you know how much I need you home tonight
Would the Angel of my heart be the woman in my arms

Although I said I'm always right
So many times I've been so wrong
Another day and you forgave
With just a promise and a song
